The state's proposal still seems to mostly be for the benefit of property developers, and not Sydney's residents.

The following changes are necessary:

The harbourside park should be larger, with a larger foreshore promenade (not just a boardwalk over the water).

People shouldn't have to live beneath and beside and in the shadow, noise and pollution of the Western Distributor.

Sydney has a housing affordability crisis, and this development needs MORE AFFORDABLE AND SOCIAL HOUSING.

Stop developing the city in such a way as to give all of its benefits to property developers. DEVELOP SYDNEY TO BENEFIT SYDNEYSIDERS AND NOT JUST THE RICH.
