

Kings Forest Development Code Assessment
Control	Comment
1.10 Design Review Panel The owner of the land that forms the subject of the first DA will establish and implement a Design Review Panel (DRP). The DRP will review all applications requiring a Complying Development Certificate, as well as all DAs. It will use the Concept Plan, the Code, the Design Guidelines (except in the case of a subdivision DA) and the relevant Plan of Development (except in the case of a subdivision DA) in undertaking that review and issuing a Pre-Approval Certificate. After obtaining a Pre-Approval Certificate, applicants then submit their application (with the DRP's formal documentation) to Council or an accredited certifier (see Sections 5.7 and 5.8)	This control provides a general outline of the role and function of the DRP. Currently, the DRP is generally unable to function unless the panel members can be changed. The control outlines that the "owner of the land that forms the subject of the first DA will establish and implement a Design Review Panel." This implies the DRP will be managed by the owner of the land.
5.8 Design Review Panel The developer lodging the first DA will establish and implement a Design Review Panel ('the DRP'). The DRP will review all proposals requiring development consent or a Complying Development Certificate; and will use the Design Guidelines and relevant Plan of Development in making that decision. Applicants must submit their application (with the DRP's formal documentation) to Council or an accredited certifier. Objectives	MOD2 approved panel members. This proposed modification seeks to remove the need for a modification application to change panel members. The granting of a modified consent will achieve the objectives of facilitating timely provision of pre-approval certificates enabling landowners to apply for a CDC or lodge a DA, and thus orderly development of the site.

(1) To establish an objective, transparent professional body to undertake merit assessments of development against the Code and Design Guidelines. (2) To establish an architectural design context for merit-based decisions. (3) To facilitate timely and consistent assessments and orderly development of the site. (4) To provide professional design advice and education. (5) To provide avenues for dispute resolution. (6) To issue Pre-Approval Certificates as a means of expanding the scope of Complying Development consistent with the principles of the Code.
Controls (1) To establish an objective, transparent professional body to undertake merit assessments of development against the Code and legislative provisions. (2) To establish an architectural design context for merit-based decisions. (3) To facilitate timely and consistent assessments and orderly development of the site. (4) To provide professional design advice and education.	As above.

(5) To provide avenues for dispute resolution. (6) To issue Pre-Design Certificates as a means of expanding the scope of Complying Development consistent with the Code's principles (7) To enable issue of Design Compliance Certificates after the extinguishment of the Design Review Panel.
Controls (1) Establishment: a A Design Review Panel (DRP) must be established and operated by the owner of the land the subject of the first subdivision Development Application lodged pursuant to the Code; and (b) whilst that owner retains ownership of at least one lot within that proposed subdivision, that owner must operate the DRP, and has sole right to appoint DRP members; and (c) when that owner ceases to own any land within the site, or when that owner notifies Council that they have relinquished their right to appoint DRP members, that owner must cease operation of the DRP; and (d) when the DRP has ceased in accordance with (1)( c) above, a DRP must be established and operated by Council or by an Architect; and (e) the entity in (1)(d) shall be known as the DRP Administrator	The proponent remains the landowner and thus should be able to operate the DRP, and maintains the sole right to appoint DRP members.

(2) Membership: (a) a minimum of 1 and a maximum of 4 members, including a chairperson; and (b) the Chairperson must be an Architect; and (c) any person appointed to the DRP shall retain their position until that person resigns from the DRP or has their appointment revoked in accordance with (4)(b) below; and	The proponent is responsible for the DRP as they remain the landowner. The proponent is thus responsible for ensuring compliancy with these controls.
(3) Meetings: (a) must be held when necessary to perform the DRP's duties; and (b) must be convened by the Chairperson after written notice of the date, time and place of the meeting, to DRP members by post, facsimile, or e-mail at least three (3) days prior to the meeting date (unless all members, prior to the meeting, agree to dispense with written notice in which case, notice may be given verbally); and (c) one member of the DRP, being the Chairperson, constitutes a quorum for any meeting of the DRP; and	As above.
4) Decision making: (a) the DRP, Administrator and any consultants appointed by the DRP must at all times perform their DRP duties in a timely and professional manner and conform to the provisions of the code; and	These are the responsibilities of panel members.

(b) decisions at DRP meetings must be by a majority on a show of hands by all members present; and (c) each member of the DRP must have one vote, however, in the case of a tie in votes, the Chairperson will have the casting vote; and (d) the DRP may hold its meetings by telephone conference call or e-mail if all members agree in writing to do so, and (e) any member of the DRP who is unable to attend a DRP meeting may appoint another DRP member of the as his or her proxy by prior written notice to the DRP Chairperson, such notice signed by the person appointing proxy ; and (f) a minute signed by a quorum of the DRP constitutes a DRP resolution; and. (g) only development proposals that vary from the Code will be considered by the DRP.
5) Consultants and contractors: (a) consultants and/or contractors may be appointed to the DRP by a quorum of the DRP or the Administrator to assist the DRP in carrying out its duties; and (b) the Administrator or a quorum of the DRP may remove consultants and/or contractors from the DRP with prior written notice to the consultants and/or contractors and the DRP; and	Not applicable to the assessment of this modification application as these controls relate to the management of the DRP.

(c) any member of the DRP may be a consultant to the DRP; and (d) the DRP or the Administrator may revoke the appointment of a consultant.
(6) Fees: (a) the DRP may request an applicant to pay a submission fee upon lodgement of a Complying Development proposal, Development Application, or alteration to a previously submitted proposal, to cover the DRP's assessment costs; and (b) inspection of approved completed developments subject to a construction performance bond (see (7) below) is subject to a fee payable by an applicant to the DRP; and (c) the DRP or the Administrator may absorb the assessment costs in whole or in part to either, reduce or negate the necessity of an application fee, although it is under no obligation to do so; and (d) the schedule of fees established under the Design Guidelines, may be adjusted from time to time by the DRP or Administrator to cover reasonable additional costs incurred; and (e) an applicant may be directed by the DRP to pay a DRP fee directly to a DRP consultant; and (f) a DRP Compliance Certificate does not take effect until all relevant submission fees listed in the schedule of fees have been paid to the DRP or consultant; and (f) third party access to the DRP's records may be subject to a fee (see (8)(f) below).	Not applicable to the assessment of this modification application as these controls relate to the functions of the DRP.

(7) Construction performance bond: (a) the Administrator or the DRP may decide, from time to time, to require an applicant to lodge with it a construction performance bond administered and held in trust by the DRP; and (b) the bond is required to be paid to the DRP by or on behalf of the owner of the land the subject of the application ; and (c) upon completion of the approved development, the owner must request the DRP to inspect the development ; and (d) the DRP must inspect the approved completed development within 14 working days of a request in (c) above, in order to determine whether the development has been constructed in accordance with the DRP Pre-Approval Certificate; and (e) if the development has been constructed in accordance with (d) above, the DRP must immediately release the construction performance bond with interest to the payee; and (f) if the development has not be constructed in accordance with the approved development, the DRP must notify the owner in writing of the works required to be completed prior to the release of the bond and give the owner reasonable time to complete those works; and (g) the above process may be repeated until the bond is released; and	Not applicable to the assessment of this modification application as these controls relate to the functions of the DRP.

(h) the DRP is under no obligation to release the bond until the development has been constructed in accordance with the approved development; and (i) if the DRP has notified the owner in accordance with (f) above and the works remain incomplete, the DRP may garnish the bond from the Trust Account, for the use by the DRP for operating the DRP, including background research or the like and the general assessment function of the DRP.
Procedures and record keeping: (a) the DRP must date stamp all applications received and that date is the date of receipt of an application; and (b) where an application is received by hand or digital means on a day other than a business day, that date stamp shall be 9:00 am on the next business day; and (c) if a fee required to paid upon submission of an application remains unpaid, the DRP may notify the applicant of the required fee, and the date of receipt of the application will be the date stamp of receipt of the fee. (d) the Chairperson must keep a current records of all current members of the DRP, including postal and e-mail addresses and, telephone and facsimile numbers; and (e) all applications to the DRP must include the contact details of the land owner and applicant; and	Not applicable to the assessment of this modification application as these controls relate to the functions of the DRP.
