I think that we need much more green space in St Leonards. Have you looked at the news multi-storey development which is going up in the Lane Cove Council area but in St Leonards. There is now not a tree or anything green. This development will mean that many more people will be using St Leonards. Goodness knows where they are all going to go, let alone schools, hospitals & health, traffic and recreation which is already full to capacity.

I agree to the above statement
